FOREWORD

The year 2022 has become extremely difficult for everyone. A full-scale war forced millions of Ukrainians to change their lives, fight every day for survival and help the army resist the Russian invaders. Some members of our organization joined the Armed Forces of Ukraine, some moved to safer regions and helped from there, some stayed in Kharkiv and volunteered there. From the first days of the war, we were able to get together and understand how we can be useful: we provided humanitarian aid to those who needed it the most - the elderly and residential institutions for adults; documented war crimes committed by the Russian occupiers, advocated the observance of children's rights during the war. Subsequently, they were able to return to conducting social research and producing analytical materials devoted to various aspects of the protection of people's rights in Ukraine.

We hope and believe that the next year will be victorious! We will be able to return to our native homes, work on the restoration of Ukraine and live our peaceful lives in a completely free and independent state.

Glory to our defenders! Glory to Ukraine!

HUMANITARIAN AID

Like almost every civil society organization in Ukraine, with the beginning of the full-scale invasion of the Russian invaders, we responded to the humanitarian crisis and began to provide appropriate aid to the most vulnerable population groups. Due to the active previous activity of monitoring inpatient facilities in Ukraine, as well as the experience of reforming social services, we focused on one of the most unprotected, but at the same time often forgotten category of citizens - adults in boarding houses who were located in the territory of active hostilities. In the spring of 2022, these facilities found themselves on the brink of survival due to the fact that traditional supply chains were severed and the reserves of such boarding house were extremely limited.

HUMAN RIGHTS PROTECTION IN BOARDING INSTITUTIONS

In the autumn of 2022, thanks to the support of the European Disability Forum, the KHISR Team started monitoring the protection of the rights of people with disabilities in psychoneurological boarding houses in Ukraine. 20 institutions were visited and more than 80 interviews were conducted with staff, residents of boarding houses and experts in the field of protection of the rights of people with disabilities. Next year, it is planned to write a report and make effective recommendations for the authorities regarding the improvement of living conditions in adult inpatient facilities during the war.

The participants gained knowledge about psychological trauma and how it can affect the personality. They also learned information about reactions in a stressful situation ("Fight, Run, Freeze") and how the human body reacts during a threat.

CHILD RIGHTS PROTECTION DURING WAR

From the first days of the war, the Institute decided to focus on reviewing the problems and needs of Ukrainian children in the country and abroad. For almost a year, we have documented and will continue to record war crimes committed by the Russian army in Ukraine next year. Most of them are directed against the civilian population. The occupiers are shelling residential areas, shopping centers, places where humanitarian aid is distributed, hospitals, schools and playgrounds. They kill and terrorize the inhabitants of the temporarily occupied territories, create a humanitarian crisis and prevent the evacuation of people. They kidnap, deport and militarize children, involve them in gathering intelligence and spreading propaganda

The monthly reports were prepared in coauthorship and with the financial support of the Charity Voices of Children. The methodology of such reviews is based on the analysis of statistics, data from official sources and media materials, as well as conducting interviews with public activists, psychologists, parents in the occupation and in the territories where hostilities are active, as well as with families who were forced move to relatively safe regions of Ukraine and abroad.

From the summer until the end of 2022, the KhISR implemented a study devoted to the problems and needs of internally displaced families with children, foster families and family-type children's homes in wartime conditions. By order and with the support of SOS - Children's Villages in Ukraine, we interviewed more than 300 families with children, visited 10 foster families and family-type children's homes, conducted in-depth interviews with psychologists, representatives of state authorities, workers of social services for children, and representatives of civil society organizations. The study made it possible to assess their situation after displacement and to understand how much humanitarian, social and psychological support for parents with children, foster families and family-type children's homes needs to be increased, what their key problems

The side event was organized by the Coalition "Child's Rights in Ukraine" and the Ukrainian Network for Children's Rights with the support of the ADC "Memorial" (Brussels).

During the year, the members of the KhISR also repeatedly advocated the protection of children's rights and the prosecution of Russian criminals on international platforms and in reports.

In addition, KhISR participated in writing a joint report of Ukrainian and international non-governmental organizations for the UN Committee on the Rights of the Child on the topic: "The situation with children's rights in Ukraine from February 24 to August 2022 during the war in Ukraine."

KhISR joined the Coalition for Documenting of War Crimes "Ukraine. Ukraine 5 AM Coalition". The purpose of the coalition is to protect the victims of Russian armed aggression in Ukraine and to bring to justice the senior leadership of the Russian Federation and the direct perpetrators of war crimes and crimes againts humanity. Coalition was established by 16 Ukrainian human rights organizations. We also became members of the international council of experts at the Office of the Prosecutor General of Ukraine, which, among other things, deals with the topic of protecting children affected by the war.

TRANSITIONAL JUSTICE STUDIES

Already at the beginning of 2022, a methodological quide was released based on the results of our project in 2021 on how to cover the topic of transitional justice in Ukraine. Together with journalists and representatives of civil society, who participated in 4 working meetings, we developed relevant recommendations for the media

The study of the post-war future of Ukraine with the financial support of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Czech Republic became a continuation of the study of the topic of transitional justice. More than 3,000 respondents were interviewed through a quantitative survey. We analyzed what Ukraine's victory should look like and whether Ukrainians believe in the return of all occupied territories to state control; how Ukrainians treat citizens who cooperated with the occupation authorities, what post-war justice should be like; whether, according to the interviewees, post-war conflicts between different categories of Ukrainians are possible; what will be the main challenge for the citizens after the victory and what consequences of the war will have to be dealt with.
